

BioMedix by Collaborative Care Diagnostics Announces SureFit Distribution Arrangement

Saint Paul, Minnesota – BioMedix has teamed with SureFit Shoes, LLC, a diabetic shoe division of Hangar, to develop a comprehensive suite of products and services addressing the diabetic foot. Given the prevalence and severity of diabetes and the critical role podiatric physicians play in serving this patient population, SureFit and the new owners of PADnet, Collaborative Care Diagnostics, LLC doing business as BioMedix, have entered into an exclusive Distribution Agreement enabling SureFit to offer PADnet devices and collaborative care programs to the podiatric marketplace.

"With 26 million diabetics and over 75 million pre-diabetics in the US, we are thrilled to make PADnet more accessible to podiatric physicians with a trusted leader in the diabetic shoe, brace, and orthotic space," stated Paul Burke, Collaborative Care Diagnostics Board Chairman.

Kevin Ostwald, SureFit Sales Director, added, "Diabetic patients are 7 to 15 times more likely than non-diabetics to undergo a major amputation due to peripheral artery disease or PAD. At SureFit, taking care of the diabetic foot is our priority. With diabetic shoes, orthotics, braces, and now PADnet, we are well positioned to support podiatric physicians improve patient quality of life as well as help save limbs and lives."
